

His Wife Says He Is Contributing Nothing to Their Support.

Berlin, Jan. 16.—Dr. Alhwardt, who spent some months in America upon an unsuccessful learning tour, recently caused it to be announced that he was about to return to Berlin but for a few years. It was also reported that he sent his wife the sum of 600 marks during his absence, but this report is denied by Frau Alhwardt, who declares that her husband left her and her children destitute and has not contributed a penny to their support since he went away. Frau Alhwardt has said nothing to her husband threatening to leave her his share in her possessions on his political opinions.—N. Y. Sun, Jan. 17, '97.

be prepared to recognize almost anything in person if it could get the two great nations of Anglo-Saxon stock in line together against the world." The "Pall Mall Gazette" remarks that "since England and the United States are cousins" the city offers no precedent for other nations. A passage in Mr. Cleveland's message denouncing the treaty is in line with these intonations of the English press. He says: "It is entirely true that, as was to be expected, the treaty, as a result of its results so beneficial should be indicated by kindred peoples, speaking the same tongue and joined together by a sense of common traditions, common institutions and common aspirations." And the Brooklyn "Eagle," a strong Cleveland organ, puts it this way: "The fact that it has been arranged by England will be of inestimable value to the United States in the event of complications with any other European power."

As already observed, about the only persons in America who want this treaty with England are persons who desire it solely because it is with England, and with no other country. If other nations were included their joy would be exceedingly moderated. They are persons who are infatuated with England, who are forever boasting of their Anglo-Saxonism, who love to trace their family origin and coat of arms to England, who affect English ways, and would adopt English customs and English institutions, and whose highest ambition is some day to be received with their wives and daughters at the English Court. For this sort of persons the English aristocracy have only contempt, and in the estimation of Englishmen of domestic tendencies they are even more contemptible. But English diplomacy, for its own ends, will now smile upon and affect to appreciate all this vanity.

And now the show goes over this English treaty are going to have a day of jubilee, and the day of an days fixed for its celebration is Washington's birthday, the 22d of February! Perhaps they had better cozy up their enthusiasm and let the senate of the United States and have passed on the proposition.

Meanwhile, a few people of whose mind's eye foresees this sort of folly, will be wholesome reading for all Americans who sincerely wish well to their country. In an farewell address, the Father of his country says:

"Against the influence of foreign influence (I suppose you believe me, fellow-citizens) the jealousy of a free people ought to be constantly awake."

"But the jealousy to be useful, must be impartial; else it becomes the instrument of the very influence to be avoided, instead of a defense against it. Excessive partiality for one foreign nation and excessive dislike of another cause those whom they attempt to serve to danger only to one side and serve to veil, and even to spread, the acts of influence on the other."

"The great rule of conduct for us in regard to foreign nations is to have with them as little political connection as possible."

"Our detached and distant situation invites and enables us to preserve a different course. If we reach our present state an efficient government, the period is not far off when we may cast material light from external sunbeams, when we may take such an attitude as will cause the neutrality we resolve upon to be scrupulously respected."

"when we may choose peace or war as our interest guided by justice shall counsel."

"Why forego the advantages of so peculiar a situation? Why quit our own to stand upon foreign ground? Why, by interweaving our destiny with that of any part of Europe, entangle our peace and prosperity in the toils of European ambition, rivalship, interest, humor or caprice."

RAILROAD RUMBLINGS.

Items of Interest Relative to the Railroads and Railroad People.

N. C. AND ST. L. MILEAGE.

Brakeman Elbert Buck, from the lower division, is in the city.

Frank Turner is grooming the iron horses on the day watch at present. Judge Hill Reed, of Benton, came in on the accommodation this morning.

Earl Warlick was out on 310 last evening making the steam that fills her calico tubes.

Engineer Sam Griffin and Fireman Gillespie faced the cold on the 307 this a. m. out on coal.

Conductor Atwood had his lights full of waybills as he high-balled the local out this morning.

Fireman Bob Waynick has returned from his visit to Clarksville, Tenn., and is out on the 305.

The car repairers had a tough time in the cold last night putting in a set of new wheels under coach 257.

Plumber Golden deserted the roundhouse stalls yesterday and manipulated the throttle on the 5 on through freight.

Agent Conway, of Paris, Tenn., was in on the turn around this morning, to spend the day in the city.

The "beautiful" is with us but its charm is dispelled by the worrying inconvenience it causes to rail-rovers.

Mr. Bob Nelson, of the I. C. shops, is suffering with lumbago, and is just able to get about, but unable for work.

Mr. Andrew Casten, representing the Weber Wagon Company, Chicago, is at the New Richmond, arriving on train 50 this a. m.

Roadmaster Early took a spin over the road from Paris this morning and reports everything in his department in apple pie order.

Firemen Lucas and Webb were busy this a. m. cleaning the snow from switches, crossings, and other places that must be kept clear.

Engine 312 in on the turn around today, looked as pretty as the crystal chamber in the Mammoth cave with icicles hanging all over her.

Engineer Tom Nisson was too sick at Lexington yesterday to bring his train in, and stopped over there. Tom has been unwell for some time past.

The little children stop in to warm this weather with Mileage on their way from and to the Franklin school. They are all nice little boys and girls and are welcome.

The street cars were late getting out South Sixth this a. m., owing to the snow. But Dan got there after awhile with the motor snow plow, since which time regular trips have been made.

Conductor Byers Robertson gave the signal for 108 to go this p. m. when Frank Hogwood kicked off the "dogs" all except the full blooded pointer pup in the caboose, which they carry as a mascot.

"Mileage" got word from the boys on the south end most every day to send them a S. C. He takes this method of getting them to send in their subscriptions to the S. C. office 10 cents a week.

Mrs. Weddle, wife of Conductor Alex Weddle, is very ill at the Nichols House. Last night her condition was very precarious and Mr. Weddle as wired to come home. He arrived on No. 103 last evening.

Mrs. Carroll, a widow of an old Cumberland river steamboat man, and who is residing on Bryant's alley in needy circumstances, was the recipient of a load of coal donated by the company. A charity well bestowed.

The writer knew a colored brakeman once whose run was with a "Com" whose parents were Preach from Cork. They had a falling out and the brakeman got a ten days' lay off. In making his explanation to the trainmaster, he said: "Captain, maybe I was wrong, but an Irishman is nothing but a nigger turned inside out, and if I had been with a white 'Com' it wouldn't have happened."

Some years ago when the writer was a check clerk on the platform of a Memphis depot, a car door was unlocked one morning which had just arrived from New Orleans loaded with molasses. As soon as it was opened, out stepped seventeen big, healthy, stalwart tramps who had been in the car for next three days. They were well supplied with edibles and had a demijohn of water with them. I asked one fellow how they came to be locked up in the car, and he said they gave a truckster in New Orleans a dollar to fasten them up. The last one to leave the car inquired of me where the nearest newspaper office was. I asked him if he wanted to announce their arrival. He laughed and said no, but that he was a type setter and wanted work.

"Cast thy bread upon the waters," etc., said the master, and though the big hearted and generous boys of the switch crew did not do this literally, yet on Sunday last they did fill several large hampers with all kinds of provisions and take them to a poor widow woman with three small children, whom they found down about the incline in a shanty near the foot of Ohio street. The family had been without food for several days, had but one old quilt for covering and their apparel was so thin and worn it would have hardly wadded a shot gun. They also sent them a load of coal. The widow's wants were made known to their wives, and thereafter several ladies visited her and carried clothing, blankets and other articles of which the family stood in great need. The woman's name is Jackson, and no doubt she blesses the accident that made known her wants to the railroad men.

Lyon County Authorities Angry

At the Crittenden County Mob that Went After Rev. Fox, etc.

County Attorney W. W. Martin, of Paducah, was in the city today and reports great indignation in Lyon county over the mob that recently crossed over from Crittenden county into Rev. Fox's office.

There were ten men in the mob and they were all from Crittenden county. The cases have been fully investigated and their names are known, but there is not quite enough evidence to arrest them. All are said to be prominent church members.

GAVE HIMSELF UP.

Page Family, of which, walked in today, Justice Winchester's office this morning.

"I see in the papers that I've wanted," was his greeting.

"Who are you?" he was asked. He explained that he was Page Family, the man wanted for a day or two on a toll-gate keeper at Boone's and getting himself chased away by a shotgun yesterday.

Of course the genial Justice had to display a corresponding degree of magnanimity, so he recognized Family for his appearance tomorrow and let him go without bond.

AFTER ALONG ILLNESS.

Dr. R. E. Smith Passed Away Last Night.

Dr. Richard E. Smith, second son of Dr. J. D. Smith and wife, died last night at 6 o'clock at the family residence, corner of Ninth and Jefferson streets, of Bright's disease and consumption, after a several months' illness. He was forty years of age and lived at Paducah, Tex., until he came to Paducah last summer to receive the attention of his father. His wife and four children live in Texas.

The deceased was a Methodist and a man highly respected by all who knew him. The remains will be taken to Texas for burial, accompanied by Mr. Weightman Smith.

The remains were taken away at 12:10 for Texas.

The trial of ex-Town Marshal Phil Lam for the murder of Miles Harshbarger, colored, at Brooklyn last summer, began yesterday at Metropolis.

A jury was selected from a venire of 15, and all the state's evidence heard. The defense will introduce testimony and the case will probably be concluded tomorrow.

BOATS LAID UP.

Navigation Practically Suspended.

Ice Running Heavy in the Ohio River.

Navigation is practically suspended on the Ohio, and today the ice has been running heavy. There were no boats up and few down, and it is likely that tomorrow and perhaps for a few days there will be little or no navigation.

There was no ice of any consequence until today, but it is now dangerous for a craft to venture out, hence most of them are laid up.

JUDGMENT SET ASIDE.

Tom Jones Had Made a Good Prison.

Tom Jones, colored, pleaded today for judicial clemency. Several months ago Tom had a difficulty with his wife, and to get even gave her a beating and then proceeded to demolish the furniture.

As he had been up several times before, Judge Sanders decided to store him away in durand vile, and fined him $100 and fifty days in jail. He had served his jail sentence and fifty-seven days on the chain gang, so Judge Sanders granted Jones' request for leniency and set aside the remainder of the judgment.

BLACKED HER EYE.

Helen Brooks the Victim of a Man's Fist.

Soon after police court adjourned today Helen Brooks, colored, who was acquitted of carrying a razor, walked into Marshal Collins' office at the city hall. There was quite a change in her countenance, as one eye looked like an India rubber ball with a hole in it. She said that Porteous Lloyd struck her, and a warrant was issued for him. He will answer tomorrow.

ANOTHER COLD DAY.

The Thermometer Again Hovers About Zero.

At 5 o'clock this morning Nagel's thermometer registered three degrees above zero, and a light snow, which began at 10 o'clock and fell at intervals until daylight, covered the ground.

A great many people did not feel the cold so much as yesterday, however, there being little wind. The snow is dry and fine, and at daylight was about two inches deep.

Today there has been a slight moderation, and at times a light snow fell. The indications are that the backhills of the blizzard have been broken. Today's temperature has been from six to nine degrees above.

AN OLD-TIMER.

He Was Drunk, and Like Others Got Fined.

Mat Hill, an old and well known resident of Livingston county, and a noted fox hunter, was presented on a charge of drunkenness in Judge Sanders' court this morning.

Hill was arrested last night by Officer Phillips on lower Broadway, and was not yet sober this morning. Judge Sanders stated that he had known the defendant for twenty-five years, but this did not deter him from assessing the usual fine of $1 and costs.
